FOUR MAJOR PROJECTS APPROVED BY STATE HEAD CITY BAY ST. LOUIS

Wayne Allison, Works Progress Administrator Gives O. K. For Addition to Central School, New Negro School, New 4-Inch Water Mains and Asphalting Unpaved Streets of City

Four major projects for City of Bay St. Louis have been finally approved and sent to Washington by Wayne Allison, State Works Progress Administrator, Jackson, after first receiving approval of District Office at Hattiesburg.

Such was the announcement made Tuesday by Mayor G. Y. Blaize, City Commissioners W. L. Bourgeois and H. Grady Perkins, with City Supt. of Education S. J. Ingram, co-operating, who gave valuable assistance in preparing data and information regarding necessary improvements for local schools.

The projects include both Central and Valena C. Jones Negro School of the city.

Central and High School improvement call for a two-story building to correspond with the present building, of the same kind of materials—brick and cement trimmings. The plan calls for eight additional class rooms, 26 x 30 each and in addition a gymnasium constructed adjacent and back of the present building. The approved amount is $61,375.01.

The city has asked for this addition to Central and Bay High, for the reason, the application for funds set out, "it is imperative and necessary that we give educational opportunities to all educable children living outside the limits of our separate school district. A certification the application continues, attached hereto and marked "Exhibit B corroborates this conclusion and shows clearly the additional load of county pupils as cared for by the City with its present facilities.

For Negro School Building

Public Negro School Building— The present city school building for Negroes, known as the Valena C. Jones, has long become inadequate and in a sense will soon become dangerous and untenantable. To better Negro educational facilities $16,246.64 is the amount asked for and approved. The new building, as proposed, will be of that type of construction known as the Rosenwald type. It will be of frame, one story, 9 class rooms, etc. Material in the present city-owned building will be used and the new building will be located on the present city property.

Improving Waterworks System

With a view of improving waterworks system of the city $26,190.23 has been asked for and approved. The plan calls for the removal of 2 and 3-inch mains, replacing with 4-inch cast iron pipes, standard recognized mains for insurance rate reduction. This will not only reduce insurance rates but will give added protection. It has been the intention of Mayor Blaize and Commissioners Bourgeois and Perkins ever since their induction into office to improve the waterworks system. This they have already done to a considerable degree but not to that extent so desired and meaning for further safety from fire and a cheaper insurance rate. Lack of adequate funds, however, has prevented carrying out their intention, without adding to the tax burden.

Street Improvements

Total cost of $36,691.25 is approved for street improvement, covering approximately seven miles of streets. The proposed work includes grading, drainage and asphaltic paving, such hard-surfacing to take care of such streets not already paved and where mostly needed, where traffic and usage calls for most.

With State approval it is a foregone conclusion the amounts asked for and purposes explained the projects will go through and the government will not hesitate in issuing the proper promulgation affecting the projects here set forth.

Amount for the four projects totals $140,503.13. This amount will be spent in Bay St. Louis possibly this winter an will give both plenty of work and distribute ample funds to tide a long and dull period.

Supt. of Education S. J. Ingram, Bay St. Louis, expresses much gratification over the city's success in procuring both sanction and forthcoming cash for school improvement. He has given much of his time and attention in the premises and his labor has not been in vain. He has been working for the Board of City School Trustees and board of Mayor and City Commissioners several months. He has also made a number of trips with city officials to and from Hattiesburg and Jackson. He is well acquainted with the [illegible] of the city, regarding its school facilities and his services have been of inestimable value.

Mayor Blaize and Commissioners Bourgeois and Perkins have been at work on the city projects since April, unceasingly and unflaggingly and express much satisfaction that reward has at last met their effort. This money from the government is an outright gift. No similar or part [illegible] be paid back.

CAFE AND STATION BOUGHT

Ben Hille Becomes Proprietor of Business Conducted By W. A. Moore

W. A. Moore, proprietor and operator of the Rosedale Inn and gas and oil service station, located on the beach side of South Boulevard, between Washington Citizen streets, has sold his business interest as a going concern to Ben Hille, who owns and operates the garage across the street.

The building, however, belonging to Jake Moreale, was not sold, Mr. Hillie buying the business and lease and who will continue it as heretofore.

Mr. Hille stated when he recently built and opened his public garage he did not establish a filling station service for the reason he did not care to go into opposition and competition with his neighbor "across the street." Wishing, however, to have such part of the business which belongs to his establishment he concluded it was best to buy the place.

Mr. Moore, who also operates the bulk station for Pan-Am Company, will continue that line of his business and, in future, give it all his attention.

Mr. Hille expresses satisfaction at his purchase and the willingness of Mr. Moore to sell. He will continue not only the retail filling service but the cafe as Mr. Moore did. In fact, there will be no change in the conduct of the business.

Mr. J. A. Bozeman, county farm agent, wishes to announce that on Monday and Tuesday of each week Mr. R. S. Brown, the assistant in cotton adjustment for Pearl River and Hancock counties, will be in his office in Bay St. Louis for the purpose of transferring cotton certificates from one producer to another. We have two books that were issued—the brown book and the green back book. If you have a brown back book we will be able to transfer this book through my office from one producer to another until all poundage has been used. He tells me that the green book certificates are not transferable but, can be sent back to Washington and the certificates will be re-issued to you for next year's crop."

CIRCUIT COURT SESSION

Judge White Opens Fall Term of Court—Chas. Casanova Foreman Grand Jury

Fall Term Circuit Court Hancock county convened Monday in Bay St. Louis, with Judge W. A. White, on the bench, and the usual county and district officers at their respective posts.

Damage suits occupied a goodly space of the docket, however, compromising cases before going to trial seems to be the order of proceeding, up to Wednesday evening and Thursday morning.

Mrs. Mary Besancon, widow of Armand Besancon, who through her attorneys, Gex & Gex, claimed damages in amount of $35,000 for injuries claimed while in a truck with her husband who was killed in an accident with the L. & N. R. R. train at Second street crossing, Bay St. Louis, compromised with attorneys for the defendant company. The amount, it is understood was appreciable and satisfactory to the plaintiff.

James N. Wade, administrator for the estate of Armand Besancon, who lost his life in the aforesaid accident, sued the company for $50,000.00 This amount, too, was compromised.

W. L. Wuescher, of New Orleans, vs. D. N. Ziegler, automobile accident in Hancock county, suing for $15,000 accepted a sum cash before going to trial.

A. B. Everts, of New Orleans, vs. W. L. Wuescher, in same auto accident, sued for $15,000 damages also accepted a compromise. Mr. Wuescher carried liability insurance, it was stated.

In the case of State vs. Edward E. Oliver, 55, indicted for murder in connection with slaying of his son, Albert E. Oliver, 28, August 5, 1935, was argued by Attorney Robert L. Genin who secured a change of venue to Pearl River County, the case to be heard there this fall.

The Grand Jury Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock made its report. Charles Casanova, of Logtown, is foreman.

Grand Jury Report

Eighty-five witnesses were examined and seven indictments returned. The report says the courthouse was found in fair condition, except the plumbing. The jail, however, not in good condition. Roads in Beat 3 were reported in bad condition. And it was recommended that in future purchase of lumber be by first advertising for same. A. C. Weston was clerk.

SUMMER VILLA IS DESTROYED

Fire of Unknown Origin Consumes W. G. Cleveland Summer Home — Formerly Mazerat's

Bay St. Louis fire alarm was sounded Wednesday morning shortly after 4 o'clock soon after which time the summer home on Waveland beach, near Bay St. Louis dividing line, was a heap of burning debris and ashes.

The property, originally the summer home of the late John Mazarat for over fifty years, was the property of Walter G. Cleveland, an executive of the E. C. Palmer Company at N. O. Mr. Cleveland purchased it about a year ago from I. R. Allen, of Chicago, who had purchased it from the Mazaret estate and had extensively renovated the place and called it "Blue Shutters."

Cause of fire is unknown. It originated in the north end of the house while the family slept in the south wing.

Property was valued at from $12,000 to $15,000 and was covered by a policy of $6,000.00. Furniture by a policy of $1500. Of the latter Mr. Cleveland had unusually handsome pieces of antiques and other rare furnishings and many things of expensive value. The policy covered very little of the belongings.

Waveland having no fire department and no water mains, the arrival of Bay St. Louis fire department was of no avail. The building, one-story frame, was rapidly consumed, and nothing could be done but to look at the fire as it carried everything within its wake. Surrounded by many oak trees they were considerably damaged as well.

This is the second fire of importance Waveland has had within a short while.

St. Joseph Parents' Club to Hold First Meeting This Friday Afternoon

Much of the work for the coming season will be outlined and discussed and it is planned to pursue an intense campaign of work and result. It is pointed out that the more the club accomplishes the greater will be its value as an organization and the more it will represent. Its success for the '35-'36 term will, in considerable measure, depend on the attendance this afternoon.

OLIVER, CHARGED WITH KILLING OF SON, ALBERT, GETS CHANGE OF VENUE

Judge White Grants Attorney Genin's Motion to Try Case at Poplarville, Pearl River County—Prisoner Returned to Gulfport

Judge Walter A. White, of Biloxi, shortly before noon Tuesday, sustained a motion of counsel for Edward E. Oliver, 55, indicted for the murder in connection with the slaying of his son, Albert E. Oliver, 28, on August 5, for a change of venue upon the ground that public sentiment in Hancock Conty would not insure a fair trial for Oliver.

Judge White directed removal of the State's case against Oliver to the circuit court of Pearl River County, scheduled to be convened by Judge Harvey McGehee on November 4. Choice of Pearl River County, Judge White indicated, was based on its earlier date for opening of a term than any other adjoining county.

In a brief comment upon the venue-change motion, Judge White said he had ordered the removal of Oliver to Harrison County jail at Gulfport the day after shooting, upon reports that ill feeing existed in Bay St. Louis and Hancock county against the prisoner, and that since that time the publication of newspaper reports "covering the case very fully," and widespread discussion of the slaying, had brought about a condition under which he declared he "doubted if a jury could be empaneled in Hancock county whose members had not heard the case fully discussed."

The motion for change of venue, offered by Robert L. Genin, Bay St. Louis attorney, set forth that Oliver's case had been "prejudged" and that a fair trial could not be expected in Hancock county because of "ill will and prejudice against the defendant."

The motion was supported by affidavits of three persons, all of whom cited the same condition of an adverse public attitude toward Oliver.

The state, by District Attorney R. C. Cowan of Gulfport and Emile J. Gex of Bay St. Louis, county prosecuting attorney, introduced six members of the petit juries serving in circuit court this week, to show that neither ill will or prejudice was apparent in any of the supervisors' districts of Hancock County. On cross examination by Mr. Genin, however, all the witnesses admitted that it was 'the general opinion" in the communities in which they lived that "it was an awful thing for a father to kill his own son."

Judge White ordered the return of Oliver to the Gulfport jail to await the Pearl River county term.

The story of the killing has already been told in these columns and our readers are more or less familiar with the details. The outcome will be awaited with more than passing interest.

LIBRARY MONTHLY SURVEY

Mrs. Da Ponte and Mrs. Pepperdene Deliver Principal Address Thursday

The Board of Managers of the Hancock E. R. A. County Library met on Tuesday morning, September the tenth, for its monthly survey of library affairs. A number of new and widely advertised works, by contemporary American authors, were voted for addition to the list of pay books in the front reading room. Among these, for immediate purchase, were A Personal History, by Vincent Sheean; God and My Father, and My Life With Father, by Clarence Day; and Robert E. Lee, by Douglas E. Freeman. Hendrick Van Loon's Life of Rembrandt Van Rhin, and The Stream of History, by Geoffery Parsons, will be moved to the free shelves of the library. Immediately following the business meeting of the board, the Review of the Month Cub came together for its regular discussion of world affairs and its review of a popular book.

Mrs. Da Ponte's Talk on Current Events

With her usual piquante and magnetic address, Mrs. Harry da Ponte presented the talk on Current Events. Will Rogers, that master showman of our day, is dead; $22,000,000 has been dedicated, by the government at Washington to the advancement of projects for women; 2670 people have been killed by automobiles in the United States during the month of July; Astrid of Belgium is a lovely memory; and a new lens, called a microvision lens, will allow thousands of people, who thought they were hopelessly blind, to see.

Mrs. Kenneth W. Pepperdene Reviews Book

Following Mrs. Da Ponte on the program, Mrs. Kenneth W. Pepperdene gave an exceptionally searching and informative review of The Angel Who Couldn't Sing, by Sophia Cleugh. Despite Mrs. Pepperdene's dramatic and comprehensive talent for seeing clearly all sides of her subject, the account of Mrs. Cleugh's novel left us unmoved. There is a prologue in which two angels, watching over souls about to be reincarnated, discuss the character and chances for happiness of their charges. There is the saga of the Gay family, of England, done, as Mrs. Pepperdene pointed out, something in the manner of the recent Cavalcade. There is an epilogue in which the hero, himself an angel at last and in charge of earth creatures, joins his former patron in what sounds like rather a Byrne Jones vigil of the heavens. From there you can carry on for yourself. We sort of hope that the author doesn't know what she's talking about.

Meeting of Hancock County Council of P .T. A.

At the meeting of the Hancock County Council of P. T. A. held at the Courthouse Wednesday afternoon September 11, Mrs. L. Jacobs was elected county chairman to take the place of Mrs. A. P. Smith, who tendered her resignation.

Mrs. Jacobs was also elected official delegate to the state P. T. A. convention to be held in Jackson, October 2-4.

Plans for P. T. A. week, which will be the third week in October, were discussed. A later meeting will be held to complete these plans.

STATE TAX FOR SLOT MACHINES

Asked In Hancock and Harrison—Tax Said To Appropriate $100 on Each

Notices have been given the operators and owners of the approximately 400 slot machines now being operated in Harrison County that they are subject to a privilege tax levied by the state and that this tax, which together with damages amounts to approximately $100 on each machine The notices came from the state tax collector through Myrant Adams and the names of the owners or operators where machines were known to be in peration have been placed in the hands of the sheriff's force for the collection of the allegedly due state privilege tax.

Also the municipal and beat authorities in some of the Coast towns have been making periodic assessments against the owners or operators of the machines and in Gulfport and Biloxi, particularly, the revenues thus obtained by officials has virtually paid the salaries of the police departments within recent months, it is declared.

The state tax-collector's agent, Mr. Adams, began sending notices to operators in Hancock County where there is also a large number of the machines being operated, it was learned, and will insist that the tax collecting authorities of both Harrison and Hancock counties collect the allegedly due state tax and penalties from the owners and operators of the machines.

The slot machine owners must pay the state's claim, it was pointed out, or face court action to enforce payment. The estimated 400 Harrison county machines will result in the collection of around $35,000 or $40,000 in taxes and penalties for the state, if all pay the claims levied against them as contained in the notices, it was said.

The statute under which Mr. Adams brings the state tax collector's claim is contained in the Acts of the 1934 legislature, it was pointed out.

CIVILIZATION

THERE are some people who object to the government seeking to help people meet the emergencies of life. They oppose old age pensions, benefits to needy mothers and children, and the like. They like to think about individual self-reliance and freedom, overlooking the fact that this is an age where one person can not control the destiny ahead.

We call attention of these folks to the story from New Jersey where a twenty-seven year old mother walked in a police station and announced that she had just drowned her two year old boy. "I couldn't feed him and I couldn't bear to see him hungry," she said, so she carried him to a creek, let him play around until he was tired, then held him under until he was dead.

The mother, whose husband died half-a-year ago, had been unable to meet the demands of life. She will be condemned, perhaps rightly so, but she didn't want to kill her little son. She held him in her arms after he was dead. With it all, however, the strain of life was too great for her frail independence, she lost her mental proportions, probably improperly so, and to avoid the expected fate of starvation for her son, she ended his life.

This happened in a civilized country. It wouldn't have happened if the mother had known that the government would provide for worthy mothers if they couldn't take care of their helpless little children. Government aid for children may be socialistic, as some critics claim, but, as far as we are concerned, we are for it.

NOT ENOUGH FOOD

A STUDY of the world's need for food, undertaken by physicians on the staff of the Health Organization of the League of Nations, concludes with the statement that "the amount of food at present produced is enormously less than the amount required to provide all mankind with a satisfactory diet."

This ought to be good news to Hancock county farmers who are afraid that the world will never be able to utilize the produce of their acres, scientifically managed. However, if one thinks of the people in many of the poorer counties of the world where diets lack essential foods, and where the population is punished by diseases of malnutrition, it is easy to believe the truth of the assertion.

There must be much international planning, and certainly considerable development of good-will among the people of the world before it will be possible to distribute food supplies on a basis that will provide satisfactory diets to all peoples.

ANOTHER HURRICANE

JUST about the time that we were wondering whether the nation would escape visitation from West Indian hurricanes along comes the news that one has swept over southern Florida, bringing loss of life and property to the people there.

Such tragedies move us to recall the good fortune that belongs to most of us and the kind Providence that spares Bay St. Louis from ordeals of this type. It should cause us to be ready to extend assistance of every kind to the victims of these natural disasters and to keep up the work of the Red Cross which acts as a natural agent in extending assistance to those overwhelmed by fate.

DISTRIBUTE THE FRUITS

MAN has made wonderful progress along many lines but the fruit of science, industry and modern civilization is not available to the average man of a country like the United States, much less to the average inhabitant of areas in China, India, Africa and other sections of the globe.

It may well become the aim of the present generation to see what it can do to give the benefits of our marvelous progress to the average man and woman of places like Bay St. Louis.

In other words, after a period of much going forward it may be necessary for the human race to give its attention, for awhile for at least, to distribution of the good things of life.

Bay St. Louis will become just as fine a city as the dreams of its citizens vision its future.

Never worry about the world not recognizing your worth; just be sure that you deserve something.

More Advice: This is a good time to make a test of the pulling power of an advertising campaign in The Sea Coast Echo. We invite the test.

Devotees of fishing are patiently awaiting the change in the waters hereabouts which are rapidly clearing after the rainy weather experienced the past few weeks. Local fishermen are reporting good catches of both fresh and salt water fish. Now that the weather will be getting cooler and the streams and outside waters are filled with shrimp the big ones will be gladly welcomed. The time is approaching for real fly rod fishing and casting.

LOUISIANA'S OUTSTANDING CHARACTER PASSES ON

FELLED by the bullet of an assassin, Senator Huey P. Long, Louisiana, died at the Capital city Tuesday morning shortly after 4 o'clock, shot at 9:20 Sunday night as he emerged from his office in the Capitol.

The news of the tragic death brought messages of sorrow from all parts, from the White House down to the humblest.

The tragedy is regrettable. Unanimous opinion expresses the thought that it were better if the people had fought by ballot rather than bullet and rid themselves of the political character rather than the man.

Friend and foe alike give Long credit for his genius. A man of initiative and as an executive he seemed to have no known equal. His name will go down in local history.

What effect the result of his passing will have on the immediate destiny of Louisiana remains to be seen.

Much of the material upbuilding of Louisiana is credited to his vision and wisdom.

He built a great Capitol. A massive pile of stone, marble and bronze that will stand as a monument for generations. It was singular that he was cut down in life in the house he had built.

Senator Long was the chief of the "share the wealth" idea. He was its outstanding exponent. With his death this, too, will pass on and in time only become a memory. For in life all passeth.

Louisiana will pay proper tribute to the memory of Senator Long. There will be no dereliction in giving him all that is due. All honor to whom honor is due. Let his faults be written on the sands of time. His glory has already been inscribed by his own hands and deeds.

STRANGLING INITIATIVE

WILL Rogers, by his native ability and thrift, left an estate valued at between two and one-half and five million dollars. It has been announced that state and federal inheritance taxes will claim some $650,000 if the estate totals two and one-half million, or $1,716,000 if the estate totals five million.

Proposals to "soak the rich" through new and greater inheritance taxes, which Mr. Roger's family escaped, would go far toward destroying the savings of his lifetime.

On the savings and wealth-destroying path we are traveling, there is less and less incentive for American citizens to exercise their initiative and ingenuity as in the past on projects which create employment and prosperity. If they are successful, their property will be largely taken away from them through taxation. If they fail, that's just too bad—the tax collector does not share in the loss. He only takes the profits and savings.

TAKE THE AIR FOR SPEED

IF it's any satisfaction to you take note of the three hundred miles an hour, or five miles per minute made by Sir Malcolm Campbell in his huge racing automobile in Utah, where the salt flats give him the course that was not available on the sands of Florida.

The British sportsman has had a desire to whizz along at five miles a minute and now the ambition is satisfied, we ask, "so what?"

Automobile speeds have already reached the top limit as far as safety is concerned unless the nation goes in for the construction of special highways for the development of super-speed. Fortunately, the development of the airplane seems to obviate the necessity and the average man who wishes to ride at Sir Malcolm's rate will go through the clouds.

IS A 9-YEAR-OLD A CRIMINAL?

JUDICIAL officials of an eastern state are wondering what to do with a nine-year-old boy who confessed to his father that he killed a four-year-old girl after an argument over their respective capacities for eating peaches. He told his parent that after they had slapped each other, he struck the girl with a rock.

One seriously doubts if a nine-year-old child, even though guilty of such an act, is subject to punishment according to the rules laid down by society for normal people. Many children of entirely respectable parents have in their youth approached perilously near the violation of important rules of conduct. It is not to be wondered that occasionally some little boy or girl goes beyond the boundary and commits a shocking crime.

THE BOOM BEGINS

THERE is no doubt of a steady revival of business.

Roger W. Babson, the economic writer, says that there is no use talking about the up-turn, because it has already come.

The wise business man, says Mr. Babson, will be prepared for better business this Fall and Winter than anytime since the depression began.

We hope it is all true. There is undeniably an improvement in the usual factors indicating business activity.

If the depression is over, don't get involved in the next boom!

BEAUTIFYING HIGHWAYS

NEWS dispatches tell us that the City of Atlanta expects to have a million dogwood trees and almost as many crepe myrtles planted on highways leading into the southern city by the end of 1936.

We hasten to call attention to the undertaking and to commend it to citizens of our own city.

There is no reason why our highways should not be beautified by flowering trees native to our section. Such an undertaking would undoubtedly attract many visitors besides providing beneficial to our own citizens.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

A DICTATORSHIP ENDS

Here is Fred Sullens' editorial in his paper, The Jackson Daily News, on the passing of U. S. Senator Long. It is noted that, so far, no New Orleans newspaper, coming to this office, has given editorial expression to the highly dramatic and tragic end in what was perhaps one of the most spectacular characters in current history.

The News says:

Huey Long has passed into the eternal shadows.

Many will deeply mourn his tragic end.

Many will hear the news in silence, yet satisfaction in their hearts.

Still many others will make no secret of their rejoicing. They will call it an act of Providence.

It has been true since the dim dawn of time that few tyrants, despots, dictators, and those who rule ruthlessly, died natural deaths.

Pages of history fairly bristle with stories of the tragic fates of men who ruled not only by right but by might.

History always runs true to form. "Those who live by the sword must die by the sword."

It matters not what manner the end. The result has ever been the same.

"Imperial Caesar, dead and turned to clay, might stop a hole to keep the wind away," quoth Hamlet.

A strange, stormy, turbulent, inexplicable ever-restless person was Huey Long.

His reckless rule cannot be explained away by merely saying he was crazy.

Perhaps he was. Competent psychiatrists in Louisiana fully believed that.

If so, he had the insanity of genius—the dividing line is often lesser than a hair's breadth.

Huey Long had a dominant and dominating personality. That, of course, is always the prime essential of dictatorship. Weak rulers never get above the level of the crowd.

Until within the past two years, when too much success went to his head and made him drunk with a vision of nation-wide dominion, the personality of Huey Long was often lovable. Unquestionably there was something about the man that drew others unto him.

By that he conquered. He vanquished his enemies because his marvelous but queerly distorted mind thought faster than they did, and friends quickly put his thoughts into action.

Huey Long usually started his thinking at five o'clock in the morning, while his opponents slept, and at five o'clock the following morning he was still thinking.

Contradictory was the character of Huey Long. Despite his audacity, recklessness, rapacity, ruthlessness and greed for power, and still more power, he was devoid of physical courage. That has never been a common characteristic of tyrants. Uusually they have been endowed with plenty of that thing called personal bravery.

Writers will cover many pages with the amazing story of the life and accomplishments of United States Senator Huey Pierce Long, Jr.

He is the only man since the dawn of American government who ever completely abolished self-government within a sovereign commonwealth and at the moment of his tragic death, was regarded by millions as a national menace.

It is yet too early to determine what the end of Huey Long's reign may mean in unhappy, strifetorn, hatred-filled Louisiana.

In all thoughtful minds there will be the fervent hope that it means the beginning of better days.

May it also be hoped that never again in our government will any man rise so far above the crowd that, like Louis of France and Long of Louisiana he can exclaim:

"I am the state."

God never intended that one man should remain supreme over His people.

To live by one man's will always becomes the cause of all men's misery.

THE SCHOOL BELL CALLS AND CHILDREN ANSWER EAGERLY

(Daily Clarion-Ledger)

THE schoolboy, on the first day of school, was traditionally supposed to answer the command of the bell with tardy and reluctant feet. He was considered to groan as he thought of nine months' servitude under the lesson yoke, in unhappy subjection to Teacher, whom he regarded as an unrelenting tyrant. He gave up the vagrant ways of vacation with a heavy heart.

The cheerful faces of the children of Hinds county on their way to school, give no hint of such sentiments. On the contrary they have had enough of idle loafing, and they are ready to accept the tasks of school for what they get out of it.

The reason is that education has been turned upside down during recent years. It approaches children from a new point of view. It makes them want to learn, by picturing the dreary future in prospect for the indifferent student. It cuts out the tedious memory lessons of the past, it shows the close relation of school learning to daily needs, and it makes the boy who fails to get his lessons feel like a tail-ender in the race of life.

School work becomes associated with interesting things which children do not want to miss. Thousands of schools have athletic teams, bands and orchestras, parties, dances playgrounds. Not all schools can provide such facilities, but most of them, somehow sugar-coat the once bitter pill of education.

The teacher has ceased being a grinding taskmaster, and has become the friend whom a normal child will want to please. If some of these youngsters still won't try to learn, even after all these inducements are offered, who or what is to blame? It may be some physical defect which could be cured. It may be some fault at home, that is ignorant or neglectful. If children fall behind, their parents would better ask if the lack of home discipline is not the real cause.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

THE eyes of the nation will be on Mississippi during the next four years while Hon. Hugh White is governor of that state. Mississippi has been in the hands of politicians for many, many years, and as a result its development has been greatly retarded. The election of Mr. White is the first time in more than a score of years that a keen business man has been placed at the helm, instead of a politician. There are many things that Mississippi needs as compared to other states, and we believe that during the administration of Mr. White that many good things, so badly needed, will be secured. Mr. White has the best chance to make one of the greatest showings of any governor in the United States for the next four years, and the Enterprise is confident that he will do even more than his most ardent supporters anticipate.—(Bogalusa Enterprise.)

O'Possum Visits Coast City, Ends On Dinner Table

Gulfport—Gulfport's metropolitan pretensions suffered a shock today when a full fledged o'possum invaded the city's principal business street.

The invader was quickly taken into captivity by a negro with visions of a feast of "'Possum and sweet 'taters."

Clinging to his prize, the negro laughingly observed that "Mr. 'Possum was hungry and had come to town to try to get on the relief rolls."

MAN ACCUSED OF BRUTAL ACT AT GULFPORT ATTRIBUTES COMMISSION OF CRIME TO SMOKING OUTLAWED MARIJUANA CIGARETTES

Lillian Stigletts Victim of Fiend Crazed by Smoking—Held At Jackson For Safe-Keeping—Admits Crime

Smoke may have sealed the doom of Louis Boudreaux.

Louis, small statured, youthful looking 25-year-old Gulfport cafe worker, is in the Hinds county's mob-proof jail at Jackson charged with criminally attacking 11-year-old Lillian Stigletts.

Louis said smoke made him do it, smoke from three doped cigarettes which sell on Mississippi's coast for two-bits apiece.

It's not the first trouble Boudreaux has been in, but officers will tell you it's the most serious. So serious that the young man who just recently served a term in the Alabama penitentiary for grand larceny was ready Saturday to swap life in the Mississippi state penitentiary for death on a gallows in the Harrison county jail at Gulfport.

Criminal attack is a crime in Mississippi that carries a possible death penalty It was a crime that Boudreaux was quoted by Gulfport officers Saturday as admitting he had committed.

Boudreaux's presence in the Hinds county jail Saturday alive, but frightened ,was attributed by officers to the quickness with which he was removed from the coast after his alleged confession.

Chief of Police B. F. Cruthirds, of Gulfport, said feeling was running high along the Coast in the wake of the crime, which occurred just after midnight Wednesday night.

Officers pieced the story together Saturday of Boudreaux's self-confessed crime, as told in hours of questioning. They declined to release a verbatim account of the confession.

However, as the story unfolds, Louis, known at Gulfport during the last three months as George Burke, was downtown with plenty of time on his hands and nothing to do with it.

He drank two bottles of beer.

Later he "ran into a man who wanted me to join in a holdup," so officers quote him, but he refused. Three marijuana cigarettes exchanged hands. The marijuana cigarette, known also in certain circles as "weeds," are a doped cigarette to which a person becomes addicted just as to morphine and other narcotics.

The marijuana cigarette has to be bootlegged in Mississippi. The last legislature upon investigation found that the cigarettes were being sold openly in many sections of the state, often to school children, and a ban was placed upon them.

Louis doesn't admit being a "doper," but he admits smoking the three cigarettes.

"Then, I must have gone crazy," he is quoted as saying, adding, "I didn't know what I was doing."

Louis thought he owed for a night's lodging at a boarding house. He went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goodson, on 29th avenue at Gulfport.

It was late, midnight or better.

Little Lillian Stigletts who lived at the house, as did her mother, Mrs. Aniice Stigletts, had been to a show. She had returned home late.

Lillian slept on a cot in the bedroom occupied by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Goodson.

The 11-year-old child answered the door bell. The "dope-crazed" Louis grabbed her, throtled her attempt to cry for help and pulled the slight form across the yard and to the rear of a bill board.

Lillian struggled for freedom, she tried to call for help and Louis struck her, on the head, and on the face.

The horror-crime competed, Louis went home, officers said in partially re-enacting the case.

Standing before a mirror Louis say the insignia of his crime—blood

His first thought was to get rid of the blood. It was about 4 a. m. Friday morning.

He started to scrub his trousers, he was seen and the person who saw him later informed officers. Louis immediately became a suspect and was shadowed constantly.

For Bad Feeling
Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lafe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Thedford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

ITCHING SORE SCALY

SCALP

DRY BALD PATCHES CRUST

Most scalp troubles involve a parasite of some kind—a living organism that causes infection with resulting itch, scales, crust, thin and falling hair. Here, at last, is a treatment that not only destroys the parasite but helps repair the damage done. It is Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil and it works wonders in correcting scalp and skin troubles. Stops itch almost instantly. Softens and removes crust. Cleanses and stimulates the whole scalp, making it white and wholesome and promoting growth of new hair.

Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil is made by the makers of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine and is sold by all druggists at 30c and 60c with guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Too Bad

Ajo—What kind of a fellow is ooberpea?

Dismuke—He can tell you how to adopt an improved system of currency which will pay off the national debt.

Ajo—Has he made much progress with the plan?

Dismuke—No. He hasn't been able to pay his own store bills.

HUEY LONG HAD BRIEF BUT ACTIVE CAREER; FROM FARM TO SENATE

Admitted to Bar at 22 in 1915 and Elected Governor When 34 Years Old—Defeated Impeachment Action—Rise Rapid and Phenomenal.

(By The Associated Press)

Rising to national prominence as United States senator, Huey Pierce Long attained the highest degree of state control ever recorded under America's democratic form of government.

From the time he left hillside cotton farm in Louisiana's Winn parish as a youngster of 16 to become a traveling salesman, until a subservient Legislature in 1934 and 1935 passed laws which transferred control of the state's every activity to the political machine which he dominated, Long was a law unto himself. In the national field he launched a campign to restrict big incomes and "spread the wealth" by making every person in the United States "free of debt and giving each individual $5000.

Born in Winnfield

Long was born August 30, 1893, on a 320-acre farm, which became part of the town of Winnfield, La., when the coming of a railroad transformed the fields into city lots. He was the seventh child in a family of nine.

He attended Shreveport High School, but did not finish the course. His college work was confined to three months in the law department of the University of Oklahoma and about seven months of intensive work in the law school of Tulane university. Then he passed a special examination for admission to the bar and was admitted to practice in May, 1915.

When he was 20 years old he was married to Miss Rose McConnell. They became the parents of two sons. Russell and Palmer, and a daughter, Rose.

Elected at Age of 25

Long began his political career early. At 25 he was elected to the state public service commission. He ran unsuccessfully for governor when he was 30 and attained that office four years later.

Defeating an attempt to impeach him, he consolidated his political power and won the 1930 federal senatorial primary and election from the veteran Joseph E. Ransdell but held on to the governorship until January 25, 1932, when he took his seat in Washington. That same year he helped his close political ally, John Overton, win Louisiana's other senatorial post from Edwin S. Broussard.

There after he shuttled between the national and state capitals, defending his state organization against attacks and reinforcing it until his personal power virtually was absolute.

In school he dabbled in track athletics as a mile runner and he always played baseball at any opportunity, but chiefly he was a debater and his forensics won him a scholarship at Louisiana State university. Lack of money for living expenses and books forced him to forego that opportunity and he turned his ready tongue to selling "on the road."

After winning admission to the bar, he hung out a shingle in Winnfield and launched himself into politics. In 1918 he was elected public service commissioner for the North Louisiana district and changed his residence from Winnfield to Shreveport.

When elected governor in 1928, Long went after his political foes, clearing them out of various state offices and arousing bitter enemies. In March, 1929, when he called a special session of the Legislature to enact a tax of five cents a barrel on crude oil, the storm broke.

The House of Representatives presented articles of impeachment containing 19 charges.

Long defeated the impeachment proceedings in the Senate. A two-thirds vote was necessary to convict and he got 15 senators, one more than one-third, to sign a statement tht they would not vote for impeachment because the articles were faultily drawn. All 15 were rewarded by political preferment.

Long ran for the United States senatorship in 1930 and won. In the same election bond issues of $68,000,000 for roads and of $5,000,000 for Louisiana's 33-story capitol were approved.

Cyr Breaks With Long

Ordinarily Long would have taken his seat in the federal Senate on March 4, 1931, but he had fallen out with the lieutenant-governor, Dr. Paul Cyr, and decided to hold on to the governorsrip until he could be assured that no politicial foe would succeed him. Dr. Cyr finally went before a notary and took the oath of governor, filing an ouster suit against Long. The latter, declaring that Cyr by his action had vacated the office of lieutenant-governor, caused A. O. King, president pro tempore of the state senate, to assume that post then went into court and personally argued a victory against the ouster suit.

His next move was to elect O. K. Allen through the gubernatorial primary of January, 1932, the whole Long slate for state offices and a majority of his nominees for the Legislature winning also. Then he entrained for Washington, leaving King occupying the governor's chair until election formalities in November gave the office to Allen. Also he formed a law partnership in New Orleans and purchased a home on Audubon Boulevard in this city, shifting his residence from Shreveport.

Wins Convention Fight

In February, 1932, Long was back in New Orleans, had himself named Democratic national committeeman and supervised selection of a delegation to the party's national convention in Chicago. Before that body he came out in favor of the Roosevelt candidacy for the presidential nomination and when his delegation's credentials were challenged won a majority vote in the convention. hailed as the first test of Roosevelt strength.

After the convention he campaigned in Arkansas for Mrs. Hattie Caraway, who won the Democratic senatorial nomination. Then he canvassed Louisiana for Overton and then took his sound trucks and literature-distributing atomobiles to the Dakotas in advocacy of Rosoevelt's election to the presidency.

$79,000,000 in Year

In Louisana Governor Long's expenditures of $79,000,000 in the year 1931 reached into a state treasury crisis and in 1932 an extensive program of fresh taxation was put through. It started a protest which climaxed in January, 1935 when the Square Deal Association, organized by anti-Long people, ssembled in Baton Rouge to demand that Governor Allen summon the Legislature in special remedial session. Senator Long hurried there.

Some armed Square Dealers gathered at the airport and militia and state police dispersed them. George Alessi of Independence, a Tangipahoa police juror, was wounded at the time.

Coincidentally Long opened a personally conducted court inquiry into an alleged plot which he said his enemies had formed to kill him. The hearing was conducted inside a ring of National Guard machine guns and bayonets and Long claimed after it that he had proved his contention.

Tells of 'Plot'

On August 9, a month before the Baton Rouge shooting, Long took the Senate floor to read to that body from a thick sheaf of typewritten pages what he termed the latest "plot" to assassinate him.

Long said two of his Louisiana supporters had listened through a sound recording device to a conference of Louisiana political figures in a New Orleans hotel room. At that conference, he said, open threats against his life were made.

On August 15 in New York Long announced he would be an independent candidate for president in 1936 "if the Republicans go Hoover, the Democrats go Roosevelt and there is no other liberal candidate."

Three Filibusters

His aggressive tactics did not stop with the administration, but extended to the Senate. Three filibusters marked his participation in the 1935 session. On the closing night he talked from 5 o'clock to midnight on behalf of the cotton and wheat loan rider to the deficiency bill, defeating the bill itself and with it appropriations to start the social security program and other measures. Previous ones lasted 12 hours, in an attempt to prevent ajoint session to hear the Roosevelt bonus veto message, and nearly 16 hours against NRA extension.

After adjournment House leaders revealed plans for an investigation of the Long regime in Louisiana under a bill giving wide powers to a special committee.

Lond dared the investigators to "come on." In the face of the plan, he had the seventh special session of 1934-35 called for the Louisiana Legislature for another militant challenge to Washington. It was during this meeting at Baton Rouge that he was shot.

CONGRESSMAN COLMER RETURNS HOME FROM CONGRESSIONAL TERM

Express Certainty As Roosevelt's Re-election—New P. O. For Pascagoula

Pascagoula, Miss.—Congressman W. M. (Bill) Colmer has returned from Washington with optimism concerning the future business condition of the country and with a firm belief that the actions of President Roosevelt and the 74th congress will mean a great deal towards the prosperity of the nation.

Mr. Colmer stated that there is no doubt but that Roosevelt will be renominated and re-elected, that the country is behind him, and that financial conditions are unquestionably steadily improving. This, he claims, is the result of the public works program, as well as the natural increase in business generally.

"The 74th Congress," said Mr. Colmer, "has appropriated more money for relief and the stimulation of business than any of the other 73 preceding." With reference to local affairs he stated that $65,000 had been tentatively allotted to Pascagoula for a site and a federal building. When the site is selected, which is now being done, the construction of the building will begin at once.

Mr. Colmer also feels certain that the coast guard base there will be permanent. He has been greatly interested in this base, and it was thru his influence that the 65 foot cutter Nike was stationed here. Practically every official in Washington is familiar with the Port of Pascagoula because of Mr. Colmer's untiring efforts in its behalf, and it is believed that because of this and the fact that this is Mr. Colmer's home, the port will receive more recognition in the future than ever before.

Dry Goods Prices 70 Years Ago Up Over List Today

Laurel, Who said depression and high prices?

A glance at way back when or what used to be 70 years ago disclose very interesting figures for pessimists today. E. H. Witaker, local merchant, has a table of prices for the year 1864, published by the William R. Moore Company of Memphis, effective August 27, 1864.

A few of the items listed were: ordinary denim, 55 cents a yard; ginghams, 48½ cents a yard; 4-4 bleached cotton, 77½ cents per yard; bleached sheeting $1.50 per yard; ACA ticking, 62½ cents a yard, and 9-4 sheeting, $1.35 cents per yard.

Imports of liquor and wines continue to run ahead of corresponding months of last year.

"LOVE ME FOREVER" HAILED AS FINEST FILM SINCE GRACE'S LAST

Singing of Golden-Voiced Star Once Again Thrilling the Entire Nation

Many reasons have been given by persons who went to the theater two and three times to see Grace Moore in "One Night of Love." Most of them said they had gone because of Miss Moore's beautiful singing. Others said the picture as a whole was grand entertainment. Still others said a picture as grand as "One Night of Love" couldn't be made again, and that they might as well enjoy the film while they had access to it.

But now that Grace Moore's new picture, "Love Me Forever," a Columbia film, at the A. & G. Theater has been released all over the country, people are making the same statements again. According to all reports, "Love Me Forever," is far surpassing "One Night of Love" in every respect.

This picture will be at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday nights. The story deals with a wealthy cafe owner and gambler, and ardent lover of fine music, who makes Grace Moore, a singer in his cafe, his protege. He sacrifices wealth and position to satisfy an ideal, to make of his beautiful singer the greatest soprano in the world, to give her the fame she deserves.

Grace Moore, as the cafe singer who eventually finds success and happiness, brings to the screen a vivid, colorful, acting personality. It is this experienced artistry that has endeared her to audiences the world over.

Leo Carillo featured with Miss Moore, plays the fiery gambler. His is the leading male role. Luis Alberni who was also featured in "One Night of Love," plays a comedy role, that of an excitable little Italian.

Michael Bartlett, distinguished lyric tenor, sings opposite Miss Moore in several scenes. Robert Allen, of the New York stage, is also cast in an important role. The balance of the supporting cast includes such players as Spring Byington, Douglas Dumbrille and Gavin Gordon.

Victor Schertinger, director of "One Night of Love," directed "Love Me Forever."

KILN P. T. A.

The unusual large crowd present at the first meeting of the Kiln P. T. A. Tuesday night, September 2, showed lots of interest and enthusiasm in the organization in this community.

Mrs. L. Z. Seal, the president, called the meeting to order and then turned it over to Misses Effie Necaise and Idahlia Stewart, who had charge of the following amusing program, which was greatly appreciated by the audience:

Heralds—Joyce Fuente and Adrianne Curet.

Reading—Iva Adams.

Mountain March—Marguerite and Genevieve Gatewood, Gladys Favre, Isabel Necaise, Iva Adams, Essie Baynes, Zelda Williams, Leola Hoda and Lois Gonzales.

Vocal Duet—Joyce Fuente and Hollis Hart.

Play, "Look Out for Louise,"—Gladys Favre, Marguerite Gatewood, Leola Hoda, Edward Hoda.

Burlesque—"Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains."

Lady Vere de Vere—Theda Baynes.

Handsome Harry, King of the Cowboys—Dolores Gonzales.

Sitting Bull, An Indian Chief,—Margie Gonzales.

Bull Durham, his accomplice—Gladys Necaise.

Hula Hula—Bettty Trevirca.

Wild Nell, the pet of the Plains—Beulah Necaise.

Reader—Nolia Ladner.

Miss Zulma Dubuisson then gave a very interesting and instructive discussion of the "Need of Recreation. She handled her subject very ably, and showed herself thoroughly familiar with all its phases, discussing it from the physical, mental and moral sides.

A motion was made from the audience to have a committee arrange one night a week as "Recreation Night" and try to enlist the aid of the County Recreational Committee.

Following this, a recess came, during which time the patrons and teachers mingled, meeting and renewing acquaintances with each other. This part was guided by the Hospitality Committee.

Several numbers by the orchestra closed the meeting.

The Senior Class won the picnic for having the most mothers and fathers present.

Welding

. . . the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

. . . and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco . . .

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish.

When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco.

It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

BUILDING BRIDGES

(Jackson News)

HERE'S a little heart-to-heart talk with our delightful friends down at Natchez—the most delightful city in Mississippi.

Natchez asks for a Federal grant and loan of $2,500,000 with which to build a bridge across the Mississippi river.

At first glance it looks like a worth-while project, but—

Folks, can you afford it? Do you really need that bridge?

It means you must saddle yourselves with a debt of more than a million dollars—55-45 basis.

Can your property values bear that burden?

That beautiful bridge across the Mississippi at Vicksburg has not paid a thin dime to the people who put up their money to build it.

None of our business, of course, but posterity is going to have quite enough burdens. We are leaving to those who come after a rather rotten heritage.

LAND TAX DEFAULT IN MISSISSIPPI LAW, STATES SENATOR

Chief Executive Says Percentage Less Than In Thirty-Eight Other States

Governor Sennett Conner in an interview with an Associated Press reporter brands as untrue statements which he said had been published in recent months that "more than one-half the lands of Mississippi have reverted to the state for taxes."

The governor cited figures which he said proved that Mississippi is in better shape in this respect than 38 other states.

"Surveys just completed under the supervision of the United States department of agriculture reveal," the governor said, "That in 1934, 4.5 per cent of the gross land area of Mississippi was in tax default for three years or more, as compared to 8.5 per cent in Arkansas, 11.9 per cent in Louisiana, 13 per cent in Georgia, 17 per cent in Eastern Texas, 34 per cent in Eastern Oklahoma, and 34.7 per cent in Florida. Alabama, with .6 per cent, is the only Gulf state with a lower percentage of default than Mississippi.

"Mississippi ranks 10th in current tax delinquencies for 1933 among all the states of the nation. In other words, the percentage of delinquencies was higher in 38 states than it was in Mississippi. According to these surveys, in 54 of our 82 counties, the percentage of delinquencies was less than the general average of 4.5 per cent. It was less than 1 per cent in 14 counties. By far the greatest amount of forfeitures has occurred in the cut-over pine sections of South Mississippi, where timber companies have abandoned large acreages, and in the Delta section, where drainage and levee taxes have added so greatly to the tax burdens.

"In 1934 we exempted the limited homestead from all state taxes and reduced general state property taxes more than 60 per cent from where they stood in 1930. However, local property taxes remain too high and could be greatly reduced through the modernization of our revenue system, as I proposed to the Legislature in 1934."

Boy Scouts Close Summer Vacation Period With Camping Trip to Fenton

Boy Scouts of Troop 217 enjoyed last few days of the summer vacation by attending a camping trip to Fenton.

We left Wednesday morning at 10:30, reached our destination about noon. Camps were pitched immediately, and after a half hour of boat riding the bugle sounded for lunch. We rested for an hour after eating, then we took a swim, and about 2:30 we went sight seeing in the boats as we drifted down the stream we witnessed the beautiful green hedges along the banks and the tall pine trees hich stood behind them. After a two hour ride we arrived back at camp and began playing games before supper. After supper we started the camp fire going and the night was enjoyed by all. We retired at 8:30, although some of us did not get to sleep immediately due to the springless beds. The second day of the trip was spent in like manner with the exception of a little marching in the evening.

Now for a few remarks on some of the boys. During the night P. J. Johnson was frightened by the sound of a cow which he at first thought was a lion seeking his prey.

Currie and Cuevas seems to forget that flashlights throw a reflection.

Cuevas was expecting five meals a day instead of three.

When swimming time arrived Robert Glynn, Tom Jacobs and Jim Currie thought that they were really alone in the woods.

This closes the story for we cannot think of any more remarks on the other boys.

W. GORDON, Scribe.

There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types — the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine — an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful . . . three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupes and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.

RITES FOR S. D. SILER SUNDAY

Nicholson Ave. and Beach Resident Dies of Heart Attack

Last rites for S. D. Siler, business man of New Orleans, and resident of Nicholson Avenue and Beach Boulevard, passed away at Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, Saturday night at 8:40 p. m.

Remains were conveyed to the late home by hearse at an early hour Sunday morning, from which place funeral ceremony was held the same morning at 8 o'clock, Rev. J. E. Gray, pastor First Methodist Church, Bay St. Louis, conducting the simple and impressive rites of that church, and to which a number of Bay St. Louis and Waveland friends were present.

Following this ceremony the cortege winded its way over a long distance to West Point, Clay County, Miss., where interment took place that evening.

At West Point interment was at Greenwood Cemetery, with Rev. S. H. Caffey, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating, assisted by Rev. T. R. Husk, pastor of the Presbyterian church, West Point.

Pall bearers were A. B. Cottrell, E. P. Coleman, F. A. Critz, E. P. Burrous and Henry Foster.

Samuel D. Siler, was a native of Orion, Ala., aged 69 years, a veteran retired bookseller at 1000 Canal Street, a location occupied 12 years. Some five years ago wishing to relinquish part of his responsibilities, he incorporated his business, which he had conducted for 35 years, under the name of Silers, Inc., with himself as president and his nephew as secretary-treasurer. The store is noted for its rare and unusual stock of books and a mecca for book-lovers. He had long established a reputation and good business.

Mr. Siler was a civic leader and belonged to various organizations, a leader Chamber of Commerce, N. O. Round Table Club, and a potent membership in Rotary. Only a few years ago both he and Mrs. Siler attended Rotary International convention after which they toured the continent. As a member of Rotary he was well and widely known and was an influential factor in all activities pertaining to that world-wide order.

Mr. Siler was also a member of the American Booksellers Association and the Antiquarion Booksellers Association of London, England.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, Bay St. Louis, and affiliated with every movement calculated for the amelioration of Bay-Waveland. He was an elegant and most delightful gentleman, scholarly and of a most congenial spirit.

His passing away is deeply regretted. He had been taken to New Orleans only a week previously in hope he might rally to better health. But his condition gradually grew worse.

He is survived by his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Lotta Whitehead, and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Pierce and Mrs. J. S. Cutliff, of Union Springs, Ala. These have the deepest sympathy of friends in three states.

Among the out-of-town friends and relatives attending the funeral at West Point were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pierce and J. C. Cutliff, of Union Springs, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Pierce of New Orleans; Mrs. J. D. Swayze of Yazoo City; Mrs. R. J. Jones, Mrs. E. L. Parker and E. L. Parker, Jr., of Indianola; Mrs. T. L. Lamb, of Europa and Russell Jones of Greenwood.

She (gushingly)—Will you love me when I am old?

He—Love you? I shall idolize you. I shall worship the ground under your little feet. I shall—um—er—You are not going to look like your mother are you?

She—You're wrong there. I moisten the stamps on Fido's nose. It's always wet.
